Some of the horses are fairly easy to fold, but some get a little more difficult. Some of the instructions seem a bit unclear when making certain folds, but with patience and time, they can be figured out. It's best to begin with very large sheets of paper for the more complicated folds - the paper gets thick in places and it's much more difficult to fold when you begin with smaller pieces of paper. 8 1/2 inch square is a little too small for doing the more complicated models - I would suggest beginning with a 16 - 24 inch square of thin paper for these, then once the process is understood, you can switch to smaller sheets.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful.
