Motts victorian plumbing fixtures for kitchen bath By Joey Snyder Motts victorian plumbing fixtures book is a very neat book to read about early plumbing fixtures for your kitchen bathroom. The plumbing fixtures in the book has toilets that used at least 10 gallons per flush. The new toilets from Kohler that look like 1890s plumbing fixtures uses only 1.6 gallons a major difference. I think a plumber that loves old plumbing fixtures will get a big kick out of it and the price in that year. The kitchen sinks are different today, they have a wall hung sink. The ones by Kohler are self rimming.
